Art League of Cheatham County Appoints Lacy Stacy as New President

ASHLAND CITY, Tenn. – March 1, 2026 – The Art League of Cheatham County (ALOCC) is proud to announce that Lacy Stacy will assume the role of President, effective March 1, 2026. Lacy, an Ashland City native and the league's current Vice President, will serve as Interim President for four months before beginning her formal two-year term.

Lacy's appointment marks an exciting new chapter for the ALOCC. Her journey with the league is deeply personal; as the niece of well-known local watercolor artist Barbara Allen, Lacy grew up witnessing firsthand how the league nurtures and elevates local talent. Seeing her aunt's growth as an artist through the ALOCC's community support inspired Lacy to dedicate her own leadership skills to the organization.

"Lacy Stacy represents the heart of Cheatham County," said outgoing president, Aleshia Garrett. "She brings a unique perspective as a local business owner, a former healthcare professional, and a lifelong resident. Her appreciation for the arts, combined with her proven dedication to our community, makes her the ideal leader to guide the league's next phase of growth."

A graduate and long-time supporter of the Ashland City community, Lacy spent 10 years serving as a Certified Nursing Assistant before transitioning into her family's legacy of pool care. In 2020, she and her partner, Brian, successfully launched Pool Nurses, LLC, a local service company. A mother of two, Lacy balances her entrepreneurial spirit with a passion for ensuring that local artists have the resources and visibility they need to thrive.

The Art League of Cheatham County remains committed to its mission of fostering creativity through workshops, public exhibitions, and scholarships. Under Lacy's leadership, the league looks forward to expanding its reach and continuing to serve as a cornerstone of the Middle Tennessee arts community.
